Dear Sirs

The below EAD for which you are consignor is still showing as outstanding on the HM Revenue & Customs EMCS system. The EAD states this movement was due for delivery to London City Bond Ltd. So far we have not been able to associate this EAD with any stock that has been delivered into us. Apologies if we have contacted you before regarding this movement but we have been unable to resolve the issue so far and need more help to get this cleared.

Please can I ask that you confirm this movement was correctly created and the mentioned stock on this EAD was expected for delivery to London City Bond. To help us track down the stock can you provide as much detail regarding this movement as possible. If possible can you send us a copy of the invoice for this movement and a Proof of Delivery. HMRC will be looking to interrupt any outstanding movements in the coming weeks and call for any duties that should be paid on these movements so it is important we track the movement of the stock in question.

Please send any information you have via e-mail to arc@lcb.co.uk or via post to the address above.

Thank you in advance for any information you can provide.

Yours Sincerely

Darren Syred
